

Airfield Lighting from KLS – a high quality alternative ...!

Current Controlled Halogen Reflector Lamps

Perfectly Aligned Light

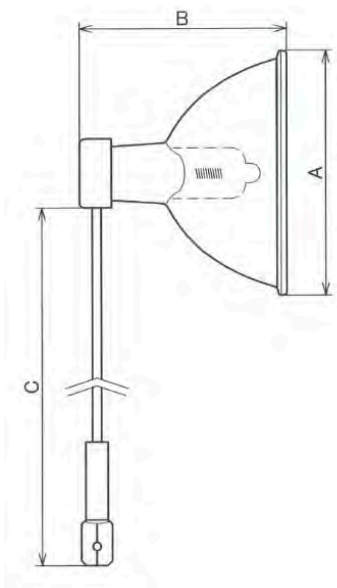

Reliability, longevity and low maintenance costs are what make current-controlled halogen reflective lamps so successful as light sources for demanding airfield lighting.

- Very precise construction and stable cementing of potential break points
- Absolute reliability confirmed through house intern testings
- High light output throughout the entire service life
- Stable luminance with no significant interruptions
- High resistance to shocks and vibrations
- Lasts the full product life without significant failures
